soul, in si - - lence and in tears Has cherish'd now for ma - ny years; A love for one, who does not know The thoughts that in my bo - som glow. Oh! cease my heart, thy throbbing hide A - nother soon will be his bride; And hopes last faint but cheering ray, Will then for - ever pass a - way.

They cannot see the silent tear That falls uncheck'd when none are near; Nor do they mark the smother'd sigh, That leaves my breast when they are

by. I know my cheek is paler now, And smiles no lon - - - ger deck my brow; 'Tis youth's decay, 'twill soon begin To tell the thoughts that dwell within Oh! let me rouse my sleeping pride, And from his gate, my feelings hide; He shall not smile, to think that I, With love for him could pine and die.
